Program Results and Effect:

Commission members and the Director meet with individuals and community-based groups around the State (and country) that provide services and advocacy efforts for women and their families. The Commission shares information and plans collaborative programs, such as educational workshops on finances, small business, personal development and legal issues. The Director takes statewide information and referral calls on the Commission's toll-free telephone line on issues ranging from starting a new business to divorce and domestic violence. Commissioners have collected hundreds of referral sources from each of their geographic regions for the Director to utilize. The toll-free number is listed in the telephone directories of five major Idaho cities and is listed on a web site home page for the Commission. The booklet produced by the IWC, "Idaho Laws, a Guide for Women and Families" provides invaluable information to all Idahoans on a large range of legal issues that impact women and their families. This booklet is published about every 2 years with the help of grants secured by the IWC. The 2000 revision includes legislative changes and has also been published in Spanish. Commission members track legislation and state agency activities that impact women and families. They communicate Commission positions to legislators and provide legislative information to women and family organizations. As a result, women and families of Idaho are represented by legislative advocates and are better informed about the legislative process. The overall effect of this program is to improve the lives of women and children in Idaho. Education is the key component in assisting women to better provide for themselves and their families. The IWC continues to network with agencies that assist women and families transition from welfare to self-sufficiency. The Commission seeks to provide any needed information to the Legislature on issues that would impact women and families.
